

"I joined Azimo to head up the HR and Talent Acquisition functions in early 2015. Like most early startups there was no recruitment infrastructure and my first few weeks were tasked with building recruitment capability within the business.

It was clear that our Dev team in Krakow was going to be at least doubling in size so it was imperative that I found a trustworthy partner to make this happen.

I interviewed 10+ agencies and it was clear that Infolet had a professional offering. Alongside our direct candidate attraction, Infolet has been extremely efficient in quickly understanding our business, finding super talented people, and getting them over the line.

There is nothing more I could ask of an agency and would highly recommend them for building talented development teams."

Simon Fryer